POLICE RAID "ALCOHOLIC" CLINIC HERE Grand Jury Criticizes Councilmen

Money Needed To Finish Job

$20,000 More Asked Than Original Estimate To Assure Job's Completion

Residents will be asked Tuesday, November 6, to approve a second bond issue of $180,000 to complete the Community Center Building.

The date of the bond election was set by the city council at a special meeting Wednesday evening.

Original estimates had called for a $160,000 issue to supplement the $25,000 raised two years ago. However, to assure there will be enough money to complete the job, the council decided to call for an additional $20,000.

Increased construction costs have exhausted the original funds, city councilmen explain.

When semi-completed in November, the building's shell will be finished, but most of the interior will require completion. The $180,000 will finish the auditorium, gym, kitchen and meeting rooms, as well as supply sufficient funds for furniture, fixtures, and apparatus.

Mayor Paul Green today stressed the necessity of completing the structure:

"As the building stands now it will be of no use to anyone. Common reasoning will lead residents to see the necessity of finishing the job."

Meanwhile, the council is holding in abeyance a bid by Ralph Larson & Son of $25,773 for electrical work in a section of the building. This was the only bid submitted, and higher than original estimates.

Other business transacted by the council this week included:

1. Referring a claim against the city of $75,000 by James E. Price.

WHY WAS CHIEF LET OFF EASY IN BOOKIE CASE?

Grand Jury Poses Question To Council

Daly City's five councilmen came under heavy verbal fire . . . all of a critical nature . . . from the San Mateo County Grand Jury this week.

That was the upshot of a special three-hour meeting of the grand jury last Monday. At its conclusion Jury Spokesman Thomas Foster severely criticized the Daly City council for its action in the "bookie operation."

He noted the grand jury still wants to know why Police Chief Wilbur W. Sunderland was not suspended from his job after the records indicated Daly City had been a haven for bookies. The jury questioned the wisdom of the council in giving Sunderland a leave of absence with prospect of full retirement pay.

No Sense

"It just doesn't make sense to me," Foster said. "In view of what has happened over the past two months, I can't understand why the chief was given a leave of absence, leading to retirement on a pension."

While Foster steered clear of implicating other Daly City officials, he broadly hinted on "some connection" between the Sunderland case, the bookie situation, and the city council.

Broad Hint

"I have always maintained that organized crime cannot exist in the community without knowledge of the police and other law

Councilman Bertetta Speaks

Denies Complicity In "Bookie Doings" Here

To The People of Daly City:

Within the past months there have been a variety of direct and indirect charges brought against the city council. These have concerned bookie activities in Daly City, and the sick leave of Police Chief W. W. Sunderland.

I wish, now, to speak for myself, to give my position in the so called "bookie operations" here. In doing this, I speak primarily as a life long resident of Daly City and a family man. I have the honor to be your city councilman, but this letter does not necessarily represent the feelings of the other four councilmen.

Approximately 1½ years ago it was brought to the attention of the city council that bookies were allegedly operating in Daly City. The council met as a police commission to examine these charges. Police Chief Sunderland was called in, and given orders to close down any bookie joints in Daly City.

He assured the council this would be done. To the best of my knowledge, at the time, such action was taken.

Upon my request, the council met every two or three months for a report by Chief Sunderland. At each of these meetings I asked the chief: "Are there bookies operating in Daly City?"

Each time Chief Sunderland replied: "No, nothing of that nature is going on here."

Meanwhile, I took it upon myself to carry on a personal investigation of the bookie situation in the business district. In this capacity I was acting as a councilman, but not officially for the council.

With one possible exception, which I brought to the attention of the chief, I found the business district relatively clean of bookies. Subsequent arrests by local police and the district attorney's office were principally made in the residential districts and bore out my assumption.

It may be asked why I did not look into the bookie problem in the residential districts.

Marchbanks Bldg. Repair Is Delayed

Slow Return Of Repair Estimates Explained As Reason For "No Work"

Concern over the delay in repairing the recreation building at Marchbanks Park was expressed by members of the Daly City Recreation Commission which met Tuesday evening.

Just one month ago the Commission recommended immediate action be taken to paint the building and renovate the showers and toilet facilities.

TIME TURNABOUT DUE THIS SUNDAY

Father Time will take his annual step backward this Sunday as Daly City residents, along with the rest of California, return to Pacific Standard Time.

Zero hour for the switch is 2 a.m. Sunday. This will prove a boon to nightclub fanciers, as they will be given an extra hour in their favorite club. However, for those who work the graveyard shift, the change is looked upon with some disfavor.

The new time system will be in effect until April, 1952.

The council agreed, and City Administrator Dan Anderson was instructed to call for estimates.

Today, Anderson told The Record that he has called for the estimates, and is now awaiting only the reply of a tile contractor who will finish the showers. Lyle Ingersoll, local builder, has been given the over-all job of cleaning up the building. (Bids were not called, as the expense is expected to be well under $1,000.)

Well Aware

"I am aware of the delay, but it is impossible to rush contractors these days," Anderson said.

He promised, however, that as soon as estimates were completed work would immediately begin to bring the building up to standards.

As for use of the structure, the Recreation Commission went on record Tuesday evening as opposed to the city council's suggestion that once the building is repaired it be closed except for use of the toilet facilities. The Commission reasoned that as this is the only building at Marchbanks Park, it should be employed at all times. However, the Commission suggested during the week the shower room could be locked.

No Lock

"When we clean up the center, let's not close it," Ed Cavanaugh, commission member said. "We should leave it open until we get another building."

This discussion was followed by a general survey of the parks program, in which it was reported there is now some $31,000 left of the $101,000 bond issue, passed two years ago, for park improvements.

Attention was then turned to the proposed park site in southern Daly City. The Commission agreed Recreation Director Elman Rose should meet with the Jefferson Elementary School Board tonight, September 27, to work out some joint plan of development of a site adjoining the present new Colma school.

Joint Plan

Both the school board and the city council have expressed favor of this joint plan, but details still must be worked out.

Tentative plans call for a hard surfaced playground and a large unsurfaced ball field, with a limited amount of equipment. As the school grows, it is expected the park will also grow.

The meeting closed with a recess.

ABORTION MILL SUSPECTED IN LOCAL HOME

One-armed Woman Faces Four Charges

A one-armed woman, charged with practicing medicine without a license in a suspected abortion mill at 50 Station Avenue, will be arraigned in Daly City police court Friday.

Being held in lieu of $5,000 bail bond is Mrs. Ruby Lee Arabie, 38, a resident of Daly City for the past eight years.

She was arrested at her home Tuesday noon by a squad of Daly City police, district attorney officials, and an investigator from the state board of medical examiners.

Admission

Police Chief Roland Petrocchi told the press Mrs. Arabie had allegedly admitted an unnamed San Francisco doctor had committed some 15 abortions during the past three months at the Station Street house.

Officials report they are continuing work on the case, and hope to turn up the doctor.

Mrs. Arabie has been charged on four counts of possessing drugs and operating without a medical license. The complaint was signed by Archie D. Ross, state board of medical examiners official.

Police records show that Mrs. Arabie has been arrested twice here on charges of drunkenness.

Rest Home

The ironical twist to her "record" was evident when she told officers that her home was being used as a sanitarium for alcoholics.

As she was fingerprinted at the police station, Mrs. Arabie showed visible signs of ill health. She weighs only 87 pounds, and claims she lost her arm several years ago when she saved a child from being run over by a bus.

She claims to be a graduate nurse, and told officers she received her nursing degree at Delhart General Hospital, Delhart, Texas, in 1937.

Although a relatively long time resident of Daly City, Mrs. Arabie asserts the operation at the Station Avenue home has been going on only for the past three months.

Tip-off

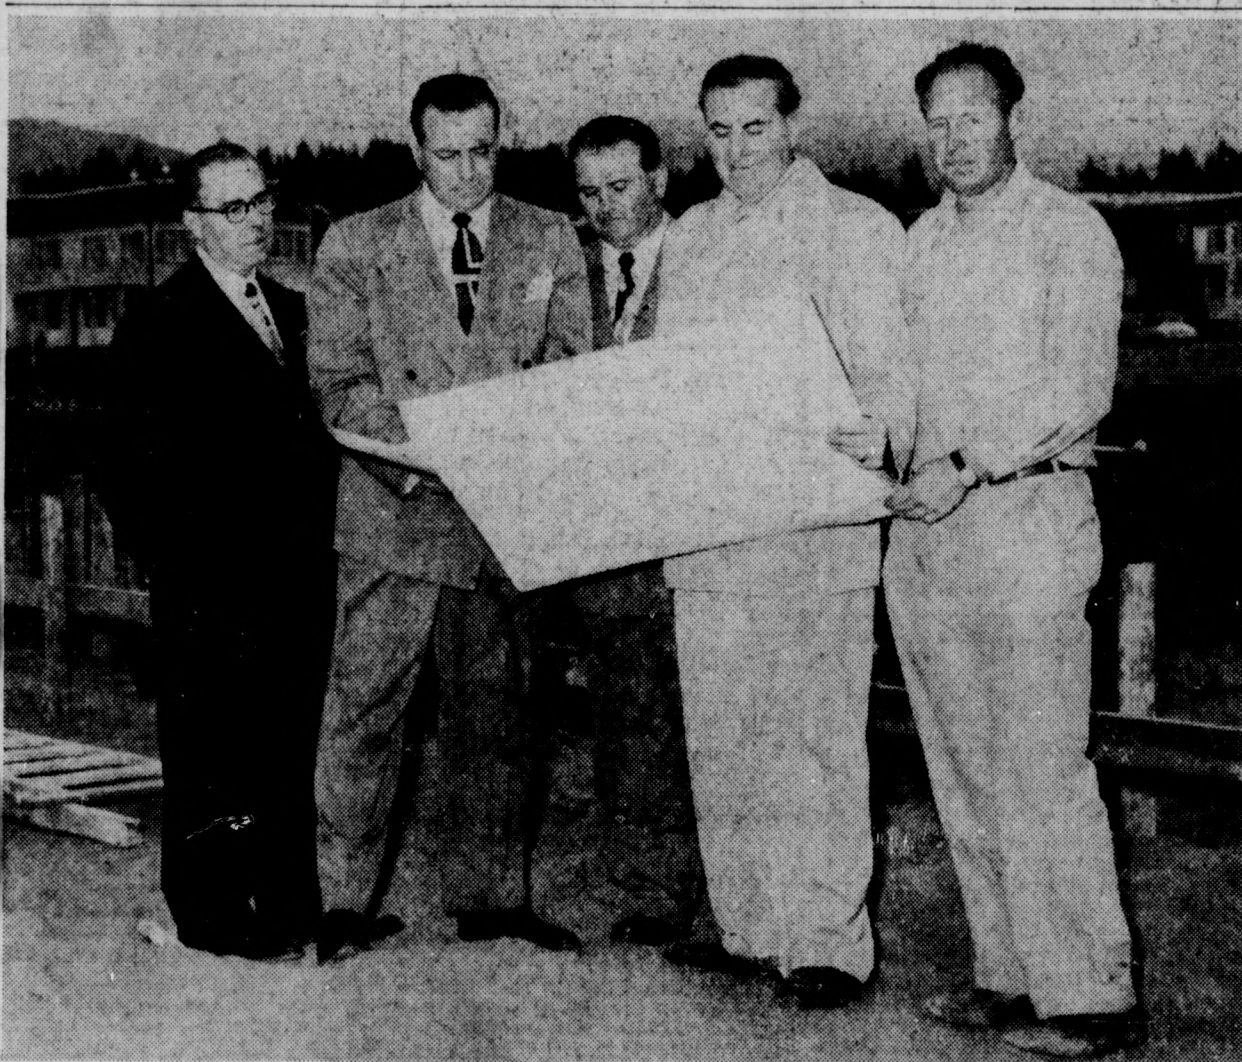

Tip-off to the alleged abortion mill came Tuesday morning when an unidentified woman called police and reported an unlicensed alcoholic clinic was "going full blast" at the Station Avenue address.

A few minutes before noon a squad headed by Sgt. Roy Beecher and composed of Officer Bruno Conci, District Attorney's Investigator A. L. Lampert and Ross, knocked at the front door of the home.

Inside the home police found surgical instruments, a hospital bed and a quantity of drugs.

Also in the home were a 50-year-old San Francisco couple, later

Work Underway On $175,000 Westlake Shopping Center Bldg.

Work was underway today on still another modern, streamlined building in the multi-million dollar Westlake Town and Country Shopping Center.

E. A. Raffetto, leasing manager for the Henry Doelger Co., said the one story, $175,000 structure should be completed within the next 120 days.

The new addition will adjoin the present Medical Dental Building and will follow the basic functional lines associated with all buildings in Daly City's newest shopping district.

Many Stores

Within the 15,000 square foot structure will be housed a hardware store, shoemakers, cleaning and dyeing plant, optometrist, ladies wear shop, and a men's clothing store.

O.L.P.H. Carnival Country Fair "Grounds" Readied

The Country Fair which will take place October 19, 20 and 21 in the Auditorium and School Grounds of Our Lady of Perpetual Help School, 80 Wellington Avenue, is beginning to shape up into a form of entertainment that may well make some kind of a record in a long series of wonderful carnivals.

One moment it seemed as though the Country Fair was something that was just being talked about in a vague sort of fashion and now all of a sudden it is just three weeks away and all the workers are beginning to feel that enthusiastic excitement that makes working for and attending O.L.P.H. carnival so much fun.

More Booths

A few more booths have been added with more to be announced as one wonders where it will all fit! One thing is certain. No one will have a moment of boredom as there is entertainment of every kind planned—gifts and awards

Residents Request Council For Stop Signs On Valley St.

A petition for stop signs, or signals at the intersections of Valley Street and First and Second Avenues will be submitted to the city council soon.

The petition, signed by 50 residents of the Garden Valley Tract, will be presented by Ricco Lagomarsino, builder of the tract.

Residents fear unless some traffic control is installed on Valley Street, a child may soon be killed or injured by fast moving traffic.

The petition was started by Walter Nunes, 113 Valley Street, and George Lemp, 185 Valley Street. Neither has children, but felt it was their "civic duty" to take measures to protect the youngsters who play in the area.

Australian Views Local "Magic"

(Ed. Note: Following is an article recently appearing in the "Australian Argus," a newspaper of Melbourne, Australia. The writer, Edward Parks, was attending the Japanese Peace Conference, and during his stay passed through Daly City and Westlake. His impressions were published, and sent on to E. A. Raffetto, leasing manager for Henry Doelger Builders, Inc.)

Everywhere you go in the United States you find that people claim, ruefully, that their particular section is the most expensive in the nation.

The residents of the "Bay Area" around San Francisco have been saying this since about 1942 and whether it's true or not they all thoroughly believe it.

In spite of this self-imposed stigma, the San Franciscan seems to live pretty well.

It's one where you're not conscious of slums, even traveling into town from the airport—and that's an acid test anywhere.

The suburban district is blossoming with new housing projects.

Take Daly City, for example, which, despite its name, is just another suburb. Houses and flats are new. White is the prevailing color. Imagination has been used in planning them. No two buildings are exactly alike.

I stayed in an apartment there with two bedrooms, lounge, bath, and kitchen. It rents at about 11 pounds a week and that's unfurnished.

But the kitchen is supplied with a refrigerator, electric stove, and garbage disposal unit (a fascinating device), and that rental is easy for an American wage to meet.

All the West Coast is a boom

Denies Complicity With Bookies

I am neither a police officer, or a gambler. I had no method of checking in private homes. This was a job for the police. How well they did that job must be decided by the citizens of Daly City.

Those same residents must also judge themselves. It appears to me no bookies can operate from a home without neighbors becoming suspicious. Yet, with few exceptions, these neighbors failed to notify me of alleged bookie operations. Nor, to the best of my knowledge, did they call police.

In failing to take an interest in this problem, residents failed themselves and their community. Time and time again, through personal contacts, and The Record, I called upon citizens to report any suspected illegal activities. I received few replies. Those who did take the time to make such a report will attest I did everything in my power to either ally, or prove their suspicions.

I have sincerely attempted to be a good city councilman, but I have been handicapped by public apathy.

During this same period, I called upon the District Attorney for assistance in what I had come to believe to be an almost private war on bookies. District Attorney Louis Demattei assisted me, as the record over the past months will show.

Approximately two months ago the first of a series of bookie raids was made, first by the district attorney's office alone; and later with assistance of local police.

The San Mateo County grand jury subsequently held a series of meetings. At the latest one, held Monday evening, Jury Spokesman Thomas Foster severely criticized the city council for its handling of the bookie situation. Foster hinted at possible complicity between the city council, police force, and bookies.

Speaking for myself, I categorically deny such a charge. I repeat, that to the best of my knowledge, as an individual councilman, Daly City was a relatively clean town until proven differently by a series of bookie raids.

As for Chief Sunderland's roll in the series of events over the past months:

1. Chief Sunderland was granted sick leave pay because he had made such a request a month before the bookie investigation opened. According to our civil service system, he was legally entitled to such leave.

2. At a meeting held between the council and county officials the question of possible "tip-offs" in two bookie raids was discussed. A. L. Lamport, investigator for the district attorney, asserted that from everything he had been able to learn, no tipoff was given. This absolved Chief Sunderland of any blame.

3. The American legal system does not prosecute on merely assumptions or suspicions. No concerted evidence has been produced to show Chief Sunderland in any way failed to carry out his duties as chief.

Consequently, I can see no other way in which the council could have acted.

I stand firm in my conviction that I have done everything in my power to live up to the trust vested enforcement officials. "And in small communities where gambling exists, as in the case of Daly City, everyone in authority must know about it."

Foster said the investigation is still continuing, but the grand jury has, as yet, no plans to cite before it any member of the city council.

Grounds

When asked what he considered were grounds for suspension in the case of Sunderland, Foster replied:

"Sunderland was not attending to his duties. To a man on the fence, it took like action should have been taken without the district attorney and sheriff having to move into the city and start a cleanup."

District Attorney Louis Demattei today refused to comment on Foster's statements. Two weeks ago, he met with the city council and advised a reorganization of the police department.

Clean

Since then Daly City has been reported as being "relatively clean."

Councilmen explained today that Sunderland was granted sick leave because he had earned such leave under the civil service regulations. The council also noted Sunderland was due retirement pay as he had earned this from his 20 years of service.

Mayor Paul Green has reiterated that the council had no evidence to take action against Sunderland, and in the absence of such evidence could do nothing but grant him his sick leave.

Bookie Cases

Former Chief Sunderland could not be contacted for comment today.

Meanwhile, the disposition of pending bookie trials is as follows: 1. Mr. and Mrs. Nathan Martine, 27 Woodrow Street, charged with harboring a bookie in their home. This case is set for October 10 in superior court. The case was delayed, as it was to have opened September 24.

2. Danny Capece and Albert Lefler, charged with bookie operations at 250 Citrus Avenue. Date of trial in superior court has been set for October 8.

3. Aldo (Blinky) Ferraris and Robert L. Magidson, charged with bookie operations from 6157 Mission Street. Preliminary hearing waved, date of trial in superior court still to be set.

4. Tony Titone, charged with bookie operations from the Daly City Cigar Store. Preliminary hearing continued until September 28 in Daly City police court.

area and housing is not always immediately available. Westerners moan about the housing shortage because sometimes they have to wait as long as six weeks for a place to live?

The greatest expense here, as in other areas, is food. But although it costs a lot and meat has almost gone off the menu of some families, the western manner of buying it, notably the supermarket, is almost worth the price.

There are a lot of aspects of American streamlining that come in for quite legitimate censure overseas, but the supermarket system is hard to fault, based, as it is, on the theory that the housewife is a human being.

In Daly City, California, for example, she enters a huge, square, glass-walled building—the 20th century version of the ancient stea.

She collects a market pusher, places her infant on the jump seat which is just back of the big wire basket, and wheels her way up and down the tiers of every sort of foodstuff. She helps herself to what she wants.

There is supervision only at the meat counter and the vegetable stalls, where clerks are stationed to weigh and price the purchases.

At the cash registers she finds herself in a narrow aisle where another attendant quickly adds up her bill on a machine and collects and extra-ordinary lot of dollars from her. He packs her purchases into a bag, and she walks through.

Loaded with groceries, child, and handbag, and loose change, she still must negotiate the front door before she is safely ensconced in her car, bus, or trolley.

But the architects have even thought of that. As she approaches the door, it silently swings open and holds its position until she is at least a yard past it!

I played with it all one morning.

The suburbanites of Daly City are not blasé about their supermarket, their garbage disposal units, their dishwashers, and deep freezers, their television sets, and their water faucets with built-in bubbles.

They are proud of them as well as used to them. They consider it a privilege to own them, not a prerogative.

They feel that these tangible luxuries are indicative of the magic of America.

They believe in that magic with all their hearts.

released, who asserted they had been there three days for treatment for alcoholism.

Indications

Chief Petrocchi reported indications of an abortion mill were evident when officers found surgical instruments not used in the treatment of alcoholics. Other records found also indicated abortions had been performed there, Chief Petrocchi said.

According to police, Mrs. Arabie told them she made all her contacts through people she had met while working in various San Francisco hospitals. She reported that none of her "patients" were Daly City residents, police said.

Sgt. Beecher said there was little doubt that the alleged abortions were performed by a doctor. Mrs. Arabie's husband, Joseph, has been notified to return from a vacation in Denver, Colorado. He is a mechanic.

Some years ago the Daly City woman received favorable publicity when she and her husband were operating a garage in San Francisco. Although she has but one arm, she learned how to operate the station and do such things as change tires.

of all kinds to be given away to lucky people. Just to see some of the sights (you should hear the costumes being planned!) will be worth a visit.

Who ever heard of a Country Fair without lots and lots of homemade cakes. We are very proud of our cake bakers and there are some real champions in the parish. They, of course, don't receive any prizes for the Best Cake but anyone lucky enough to take one of these luscious beauties home is the real winner. Mrs. Alma Parmisano and Mrs. Elsie Thomsen are in charge of the booth assisted by a large committee.

Games

The Holy Name Society of the Parish will be on hand to take care of the games, prizes, some of the business details, carpentering, lighting, public address systems, painting, etc. etc. These men are always ready to drive a nail, put up a booth or do just about anything within reason—even requests beyond reason don't seem to bother them. What would we do without them!

Mr. Bill Carrington is in charge of a special booth and Mr. Bill Whalen will once more man the Sports booth. This was very popular last year, especially with the boys, and Bill promises that it will be even better this year.

It is hoped that a complete list of workers will soon be available but so many volunteer each week that it is almost impossible to keep up with them.

Mystery

An air of mystery surrounds the Grocery booth — if groceries can ever be mysterious except how to get enough and keep within one's budget. "Jo" Lamendola and her committee seem to have a thousand plans and hint at a glamorous newcomer who will assist in the booth. "A slick chick" says Mrs. Lamendola. "Really someone to crow about" chimed in one of her aides. Mrs. Lamendola announced that a thrilling contest will take place in the Grocery booth with a grand prize being awarded to the winner on the last night of the Country Fair, but that was just about all the information that particular committee would divulge.

It all sounds very exciting and a lot of fun, but come and see for yourself. Admission is free. Bring the youngsters and make a night of it—or, a weekend for that matter.

Come to the Fair. Everyone is welcome.

"When the shopping center is completed, we will have a district second to none for serving the public needs and interests," Raffetto said.

He pointed out that a master plan has been established, whereby the complete center will feature stores of every size and service from large department stores to a pet shop.

Wastelands

During the past 2½ years, the vision Henry Doelger had of building a city where at one time there was nothing but wastelands has rapidly taken shape. There are now close to 5,000 residents in Westlake, both in homes and the modern apartment buildings.

"And this is only a beginning," Raffetto noted today. "Consequently, the need of a rapid development of the shopping center is imperative not only for the people of Westlake, but for all Daly City."

To-date the shopping center can boast of one of the most modern super-markets on the Pacific Coast, a drug store, beauty shop, barber shop, and service station. Raffetto is now completing plans for a Comptons restaurant, ice cream store and other businesses.

2. At a caucus meeting, the council heard petitioners object to the erection of an animal hospital on School Street and Junipero Serra. Application for permit has been made by Dr. Martin Fremont of Los Gatos.

3. The council passed an ordinance setting up a new system of paying water bills. Instead of paying monthly, residents will now be billed bi-monthly with a 50 cent reduction in their rate, if the bill is paid before the 15th of the month.

$1400 LOST HERE BY PROSPECTIVE S.F. CAR BUYER

Cash in the form of fourteen $100 bills saved up for the purchase of an automobile was contained in the brown alligator wallet lost by Jack A. Britton, 363 Frederick street, San Francisco, last Friday according to Britton's report to Daly City police.

The wallet disappeared sometime between 1:30 and 2:30 p.m. and between 8th and Harrison streets, and Daly City. Britton does not know if the wallet was lost or if he is the victim of a pickpocket.

A reward is being offered for the return of the money to Britton, in care of the Harding Theatre in San Francisco of which he has recently been made manager. Also Britton has just recently been married.

Britton had come to this city to purchase a car. Besides the money, the wallet also held Britton's driver's license and other valuable papers.

Toyland Nursery School To Hold Open House Saturday, September 29

Toyland Nursery school wishes to extend a wholehearted invitation to all those interested in attending its first open house to be held on Saturday, Sept. 29, at 474 San Diego Ave., Daly City, from 1 to 5 p.m.

The school, which has been in operation since April of this year, is housed in the American Legion Hall and is easily accessible from either Junipero Serra Blvd. or Mission Streets by following Parkview Ave. along Marchbanks park to San Diego Ave.

Mrs. Grace Wilson, director, and her complete staff of teachers will be on hand to answer questions on teaching techniques, displays and equipment. Work in finger, enamel and chalk painting, embroidery and creative pasting will be on display along with a science table plus the school animals. And, since one of the best features of Toyland's FULL day care program is its food, a sample meal will also be set up for inspection.

Since Toyland is the one and only full day care nursery school between San Francisco and San Bruno, we feel this open house an event worthy of your interest, but please come and see for yourselves!

Daly City Sportswomen Two Ladies Nominated To Head Club; Installation Dinner Date Announced

by Mrs. E. K. Whinnen
Present officers of the Daly City Sportswomen are coming into the stretch now and will soon turn the affairs of the club over to the new officers to carry on for the coming year.

All that is, save one—Laurien Fox—sole remaining nominee for vice-president. Laurien is the present vice-president.

Jo Flansburg was nominated for the vice-president too, but when asked to be a candidate for that office instead. Mildred Whinnen, new president, was nominated for the office of secretary-treasurer, but declined.

Nominated for president are: Leona O'Neill and Irene Maloney. These will be the only two nominees voted on at the election in October, there being no opposition for the offices of vice-president and secretary-treasurer.

Bad Weather
Weather for the Lake Merced fishing trip last month really out did itself being nasty. The fog was thick and juicy, and a chill wind was blowing in off the ocean.

Result was—three Sportswomen, and five Sportskids showed at the lake with lunch and fishing gear. Funny thing, too, out at the lake which is usually the coldest spot in these parts, the weather was warmer and lighter complexioned than the weather we left behind at home.

Fact is, it wasn't too bad at all, and we really enjoyed it. We, being Emily Brouillette and son Dean, Mildred Whinnen and son Gene, plus daughters Marilyn; and Loretta, and Dick Joy, a friend of Gene's, Irene Maloney and friend George Scally, of the Daly City Rod and Gun. Irene and George were a little late, but we won't say how late. The rest of us got there about 11:00 a.m., fished till noon, roasted our hot dogs and had our lunch, then went back and fished till 4:00 p.m., but never a fish did we catch. So much for the fishing trip.

In spite of today's inflated prices, your telephone remains one of the lowest-cost items in the family budget.

FRIENDLY HELPER TO FAMILY BUDGETS

Your telephone dollars go farther today than they did in 1940

1. The way prices have skyrocketed on most items you buy to run your home, you might expect your telephone rates would have gone along, too. For, just as your costs have soared on things your family needs, so have our costs of providing telephone service—wages, taxes and materials. Yet, despite this, the increases in telephone rates do not even cover our increased wage costs alone.

3. You have more telephone service—and better telephone service—today than ever. And the value you're getting for your telephone dollar is due, basically, to just one thing. Over the years your telephone system has had the financial strength to attract the investors' money needed to build equipment and develop telephone service to a highly efficient level. And with a financially strong system, the telephone can continue to grow in value and usefulness to you and all the nation.

2. You buy telephone service for just one thing—to have a quick way to keep in touch with other people. Today, in most places, you can call about twice as many telephones without a toll charge as in 1940. When you compare just that one great increase in value with the small increase in telephone rates, you can see you pay much less for service today—in terms of what the telephone can do for you.

Your telephone is one of today's best bargains

Price changes since 1940

FOOD UP 100%	COST OF LIVING UP 86%	AVERAGE TELEPHONE RATES UP ONLY 28%	COST FOR TELEPHONE YOU CAN CALL ACTUALLY LOWER THAN IN 1940!

* The cost of telephone service today has actually dropped in terms of the number of telephones a customer can call without toll charges. For, since 1940, telephone rates doubled in most places.

TALK OF THE TOWN

By DIANE DALY

All in all it's been a pretty busy week, with the accent on the big benefits via radio and TV. The local Saints and Sinners simulcast, guest-starring many celebrities and emceed by George Jessel started things rolling last Saturday, following the general pattern of the Cerebral Palsy Show early this summer. Sunday's Crusade for Freedom benefit marked the initial telecast direct from New York, and featured many "big names" in show business and government. The Crusade will be a peoples' gesture to pull aside the Iron Curtain and let civilian truth filter in via radio, and is worthy of the support of every citizen.

COME TO THE FAIR:

The San Mateo Floral Fiesta was officially opened this week in a blaze of glory and beautiful blooms by Chairman of the Fiesta, our own Tony Gaggero, Councilman of Daly City.

BY A WATERFALL:

Entering the main exhibit one was confronted with a huge waterfall in a woodland setting, which fell into a large pool around which were growing nearly every variety of fern, begonia and tropical greenery. Imported white, lavender and purple orchids highlighted either side of the fall in a truly realistic fashion. In the immediate foreground were massed huge displays of prize Chrysanthemums featuring the large and vivid varieties (causing much admiration and comment). On the far side of the walkway which led under the main waterfall, could be seen the forest setting which as the work of the Peninsula Orchid Society. In the lush woodland glade there many rare and beautiful plants were set out "en habitat," with driftwood arrangements resting realistically in the tiny stream which fell down rocky steps, to end finally in a small pool. The croaking of many frogs added much to the authenticity of the wonderful scene. Eunice Steele at the console of the organ evidently found them no competition, and offered a pleasing repertoire well received indeed.

Otto Meierly of Menlo Park, rated a sweepstake award for perhaps the largest horticultural exhibit by a firm. Backgrounded by a steep palisade with waterfall, it was a tasteful and modern version of a patio setting, complete with miniature swimming pool, and surrounded by redwood porticos and walkways which featured many, many, lovely and artistic details.

LOCAL INTEREST:

In the amateur section, groups from many clubs and organizations held say. Mrs. David Bunkley, president of the Daly City Garden club, was seen admiring the blue ribbon winner in the Flower and Foliage group, done by Mrs. Roger Bocqueraz of San Mateo. Thoroughly enjoying the serio-comic arrangements were members, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Hansen. One of these displays was a copper-bottomed deep fryer, into which were arranged Pussy Willows, their brown tops serenely encased in split hot dog buns. Another as a lovely "lazy susan" dish, its compartments filled with assorted seeds and pods from flowers, looking for all the world like a refugee from a Smorgasbord. Creating much interest was a meat grinder into which was stuffed a beet-red variety of flowers, its spout cascading streamers of a corresponding color, but of course a different variety flower, the effect looking like—what else—ground steak!

Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Kramer, themselves well known for their lovely begonia garden in Daly City, members too of the S. F. Fuchsia Society, were among those admiring the variety exhibit of the San Mateo Fuchsia Society. It rated a first award.

Mr. and Mrs. Ed Dennis and family had an enjoyable time in the Art Gallery section, and here again enthusiasm ran high. The canvasses displayed were very good, with the trend more toward beauty and sanity-in-art, which probably accounted for the large groups of viewers. "Pleasant Hills" by Gerald Chatterton, "Old Firehouse" by Hume, Lore, Sutro and Nepoti, also Albion Remo's "Mt. Shasta," were just a few I enjoyed. Outstanding for sheer expression were two portraits by the talented Mildred Holland. One a blue ribbon first.

In the vegetable sections, the displays were huge and varied. Forthcoming to A. Cuneo of Colma, was the coveted gold plate award, for his truck gardening exhibit. Some twenty-two awards were won by Cresta Bros. of Colma, with two trophies besides! Half Moon Bay distinguished itself with several large presentations; the Future Farmers of America of this locale taking a big part. W. J. Cunha won a prize for his striking mosaic of beans and peas surrounding the famous silhouette of the Dons, which was done solidly in jet black-French string beans.

HERE AND THERE:

At the Suburban Living exhibit—localities Al Boulevard of School Street, Carl Grossman of Hillside Blvd., and Ed Craig of Broadmoor, all members of the S. F. Gardeners Association. Mr. and Mrs. Frank Blum, literally dragged to the Midway by their enthusiastic twins. Mayor and Mrs. Paul Green, munching hot dogs, and chatting with friends. Mr. and Mrs. Al Balleto discussing the professional effects.

Opinions voiced by so many Daly City-zens that our town can and should participate in the County Fair, our many talented men and women going unrecognized!

BACK TO SCHOOL:

Mrs. Howard Miguel, 98 Cottonwood Dr., following the pattern of her junior contemporaries, is also attending classes, and is enrolled at S. F. State College for additional credits.

FROM KOREA:

Cpl. Joe Babich, son of Mr. and Mrs. Mathew Babich of 174 Santa Barbara St., and Pvt. Charles Lowe, husband of Mrs. Ann Lowe, 255 Wyandotte, have both been reported wounded in action according to recent dispatches. Have you given your pint of blood yet?

FROM THE HOME FRONT:

Mrs. Mary Fedorka, new proprietress of the Central Creamery, whose husband Frank is serving in the U.S.N., has, in cooperation with the Red Cross, volunteered to sign blood donors at her place of business. Since residents here are a long way from donor centers, transportation will be arranged for with morning pick up and return for mothers with children in school. Do sign up at your earliest convenience. Let's get behind our men in Korea—The need is great! My bouquet of the week to the charming new businesswoman in our midst.

LIONS DEN:

The Daly City-Colma Lions Club, which met recently at the Colonial Restaurant on Junipero Serra Blvd., had as their guests speaker Mayor Elmer Robinson of San Francisco, who spoke on the transportation problems and pending decisions to help eliminate them.

PARTY LINE:

A gala event, which took place recently was the going-away party held by the younger set for Jim Hatchel, who will be in uniform with the Navy shortly. The party was hosted by pretty blond Marcia Golden who was assisted by Bob Neville and it was held at the home of Bill Winfred, 619 San Diego Avenue. Upwards of fifty guests enjoyed an evening of dancing and munching from the ample buffet. Two Air Force men in the person of Richard deLosa and Ed Galindo, contributed to the fun.

ROMANCE:

The Colonial was the scene of the recent reception following the Dijou-Drewis nuptials. The bride, the former Elise Dijou of New Caladonia, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Dijou, more recently of San Bruno. William Drewis is the son of the Herman Drewis's and is with United Air Lines. The young couple will reside in S. F. following their honeymoon.

NO PLUGS:

J. D. Friend, who operates the Union Service Station at Junipero Serra and School Streets, is still pondering the theft of 150 spark plugs from his station by a light fingered artist, while he worked in back of the station.

JEFF NIGHT SCHOOL:

Tuesday, October 2, will be the opening date for night classes in sewing, Americanization and typing; with, of course, the swimming pool open Monday through Friday. Wednesday will be "Ladies Night" in both the pool and badminton court in the gym. Adults interested in other classes are requested to let their wishes be known, so that new classes can be formed.

NO-HOST FOLK DANCE IN SATURDAY EVENT

All those enjoying folk and square dancing are invited to the no-host folk and square dance Saturday, September 29, at Castle Hall, 7339 Mission street. Festivities are scheduled to begin at 8:30 p.m. and refreshments of coffee and cake will be served.

DEAR PARENTS

By Jane Keith

Any mother with a child between two and five years of age knows that some days "it just doesn't pay to get up in the morning"—and many a one, including myself, has moaned at the end of a long hard day, "Mother told me there would be days like this." The children will just not be amused and what to do about it?

The nursery rhyme "woman in the shoe" gave hers some brot without any bread then, after a spanking, put them to bed, but there are other ways that work wonders with children and one of them involves the use of the new detergents such as Tide, Fab, Swerl, etc.

A bubble bath with lukewarm water and a few toys to lose under the suds is a wonderful relaxer for late afternoon or even early morning "tenseness" in children. Don't worry about their ears or the dirt on their feet—let the bath be a FUN bath and you will have a much calmer child. These suds leave no ring in the tub and do a fair cleaning job even on dirty knees!

Coffee Time

Perhaps you just want to take the weight off from your feet and sip a cup of coffee or tea in the kitchen before starting something new in the line of housework. Little Johnny wants some tea; he wants to wash the dishes—he wants, in fact, to do anything but let mother rest for a moment. Now, here's where those detergents come in handy once more!

Beat up a batch of those billowy suds and let your small son or daughter squeeze a sponge into the mixture—then let him clean a small patch of the floor in front of you. The suds dry clean, need no rinsing and CANNOT SPILL! Believe me, it can be the answer to a mother's prayer!

These suggestions need not be confined to inside the house—just change the setting ever so slightly and they provide clean and wholesome—and QUIET outside fun. Just dig up an old paint brush plus a pan of the above and your child will be amused for hours while he busily paints the house or fence—and the best thing about it, I repeat, is its cleanliness and the fact that the suds are enough. Drain the water off before letting the child start to work.

Remember, your child wants to do what he sees done around him. He wants his play to be as near the real thing as is possible—and given half a chance he will play constructively rather than destructively, but not unless you give him at least that half a chance. Before you bark, back up and see how much of your child's noise spring from boredom—then see what you can do about it—you'll both be surprised at the results!

FIREMEN EXTINGUISH VARIETY OF BLAZES

Domesticity entered the records of the Daly City Fire Department during the past week.

Mrs. Frank DeMaria, 262 Woodrow street, notified local police last Thursday that her kitchen was full of smoke. When Fire Department Company No. 2, and police officer Linhares responded they discovered that while Mrs. DeMaria was cooking a steak, both the steak and the stove had caught fire. They extinguished the combined blaze.

Mrs. Alfred Cleary, Jr., also necessitated the aid of the local fire department, but in her case it was a basement full of smoke last Friday. Fire chief Kennedy and Company No. 2 discovered at the residence at 485 Westdale avenue that the motor of Mrs. Cleary's washing machine had overheated.

A grass fire in back of the Mission Drive-In Theatre Sunday was extinguished by the local fire department.

17th District CCPT Parents Commend Judge Draper's Stand On Stiff Sentences For Dope Peddlers

"There is no use saving the country if the children aren't ready and prepared to take over," said Mrs. P. D. Bevil in her address to the 17th district CCPT Thursday, September 20, in the auditorium of the San Carlos Central School.

Mrs. Bevil, who makes her home in Sacramento, is 1st vice-president of the California State Congress of Parents and Teachers.

Her topic for the day was "Besides voting—What?"

Though a Parent-Teacher unit will always support legislative issues which concern child welfare, it can never sponsor a candidate or involve itself with personalities. Mrs. Bevil pointed out that it is the duty of every parent to know the requisites of good law enforcement, and to know who are the officers who believe in these principles and try to live up to them.

It was of interest that the 17th district instructed Mrs. Gregory Davis of San Mateo who is district legislation chairman, to write a letter of commendation to San Mateo County Judge Murray Draper who has been particularly diligent in seeing that stiff sentences have been given to offenders of youth, particularly in the instance of narcotic peddlers.

Along this line, Mr. James Torrey, Superintendent of San Mateo County Schools announced that there is now a film available through the county office, on how to recognize drug addiction in teen-agers.

The regular business meeting of the 17th district CCPT was presided over by Mrs. G. J. Sirex of San Carlos, president. Of particular interest was the viewing of the film "Human Reproduction."

This film was the one which was so thoroughly discussed last spring.

Mr. Frank Gove, though unable to be present sent the announcement of the 2nd annual tennis tournament which will be county-wide and is scheduled for the Christmas holidays. For further information contact Mr. Gove—23, Arbor Lane, San Mateo, DI 5-2414. All San Mateo County children of grades 5 through 8 are welcome.

Mrs. George Beanson has scheduled another series of the parliamentary law classes, which have been so popular in the past. Classes will meet on the San Mateo Junior College Deleware Campus on Thursdays from 7:30 to 9:30 p.m. starting September 27th. Morning classes will be held in the Y.M.C.A. opposite Sequoia High School Tuesdays from 9:30 to 11:30 a.m. starting October 2. Both classes will meet over a period of 6 weeks.

PUBLIC IS INVITED TO WHIST SESSION

Hostesses at an evening whist party will be members of Old Glory Auxiliary No. 2044, Veterans of Foreign Wars, the event taking place Thursday, October 4 at 8 p.m. at the home of Mrs. Martha Wegner, 399 Crocker avenue.

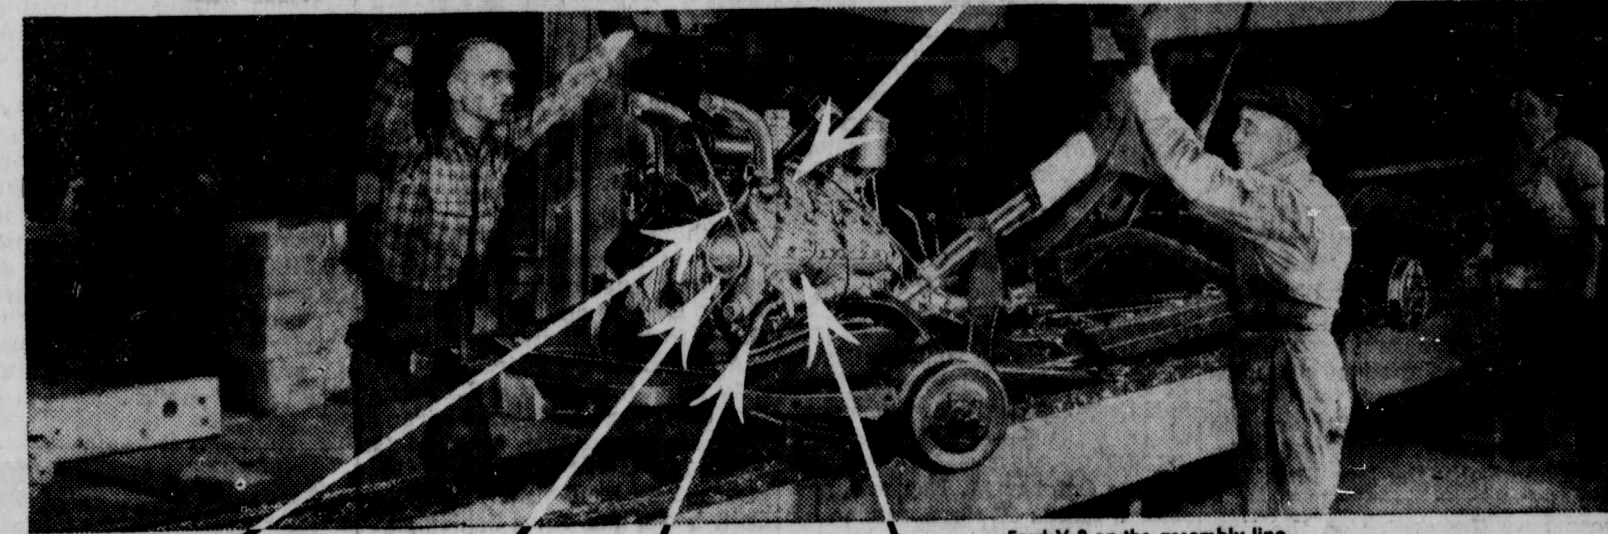

Mrs. Marie Gehrig is chairman for the evening, and she and her committee are making extensive plans to assure a pleasurable time for everyone attending. Valuable prizes will be awarded for skill at the whist game sessions, and refreshments of cake and coffee will be served.

The public is cordially invited.

Former Jeff High Star Playing Top Eastern Football

Washington, D.C.—Two of last year's Bay Area interscholastic pigskin greats, John J. Lally, St. Ignatius, and Pat McCool, Jefferson High School, were mainstays last Saturday in holding the score down to 7-0 in Columbian Prep's first football game in 42 years of school history.

The game was played against a strong, three-platoon Fork Union Military Academy squad at Fork Union, Va. Both local boys are in the East preparing for entrance into the United States Naval Academy.

Early in the first period Pat McCool staged a valiant one-man Thermopylean stand, inside the Columbian 5-yard line, where he personally took the ball away from Fork Union on downs. Three times the rangy converted tackle made bone-crushing stops at the line of scrimmage and was instrumental in smearing the fourth-down play a mere feet away from pay dirt. Throughout 60 minutes of play he was equally effective on his side of the line.

On the opposite end of the Columbian forward wall John Lally likewise was consistently competent. Time and again he dumped attempted sweeps around his position for no gain or lost yardage. Once, during the third quarter, the erstwhile St. Ignatius champion kick-blocker resorted to his specialty of blocking punts deep in enemy territory. Thanks to McCool and Lally the lone Fork Union touchdown resulted from a pass over the center on the line. In addition to Lally and McCool, other Pacific Coast boys serving as guinea-pigs in the Columbian "experiment" are: Charles Green, cracker-jack end from Richmond, Calif.; J. R. "Jim" Rundle, All-league fullback, Bellevue, Wash.; S. B. "Buddy" Long, Inspirational Player, Redwood, Wash.; and G. E. "Gerry" Seadell, All-city quarterback, also from Seattle.

A heavy schedule lies ahead of the Columbian squad. Games booked include: Wyoming Seminary, Kingston, Pa., Sept. 29; Navy Plebes, Annapolis, Md., Oct. 6; Staunton Military Academy, Staunton, Va., Oct. 13; Bainbridge Naval Academy Prep, appointees from the ranks, Bainbridge, Md., Oct. 30; Augusta Military Academy, Defiance, Va., Nov. 3; Baltimore Jr. College, Baltimore, Md., Nov. 10; and George Washington U. Frosh, Washington, D. C., Nov. 22.

Gators To Meet Whittier Poets Saturday Night

Coach Joe Verducci's San Francisco State Gators travel to Whittier this week-end where they meet the Whittier Poets on Saturday night.

This will be the third game of the season for the Gators. Two weeks ago they defeated Lewis and Clark 40-34 in Portland, and last Friday night lost 14-32 to the San Diego State Aztecs.

In the past two seasons the Poets have humbled Gator teams, winning 60-0 in 1949 and 41-20 in 1950. The Gators will enter this game as the underdog, but with hopes that their improved squad can hold its own with the 1950 Southern California Intercollegiate Athletic Conference champions.

Of the four men who will probably start in the Gator backfield against Whittier, all have scored this season. Their combined scoring in the two games to date totals 36 points. Fullback Ed Coats has scored once and converted 6 times, left half Al Endriss scored twice against Lewis and Clark, quarterback Sam DeVito scored once against Lewis and Clark and right half John O'Shea scored once against San Diego State.

Co-captains for State in the Whittier game will be full Ed Coats and left end Elmer Gallegos. State's next home game will be Friday, October 5, when they meet Los Angeles State at Cox Stadium.

Shark Hunters Have A Holiday This Sunday

A record number of over 1500 fishermen are expected to register at Coyote Point, San Mateo, at 8:00 a.m., Sunday, to compete in the fifth annual Shark Derby, one of the West's most colorful sporting events.

With $1500 in merchandise prizes to strive for, the anglers will start out from Coyote Point Yacht Harbor and fish from the shore, from piers and from boats.

Anyone may compete. Fees are fifty cents for adults and twenty-five cents for children. Entrants must furnish their own boats. Those 16 years of age and over are required to have fishing licenses. Bait, hooks and other fishing supplies will be on sale at the harbor. At 3 p.m. the contest will close. Awards will be made to those bringing in the heaviest sharks, the most sharks and the most unusual catches.

Throughout the day, water skiers will perform daring stunts on the water south of the harbor. At 3:45 p.m., King Neptune and his "truly fair" Queen, selected in a unique contest held recently at the San Mateo County Fair, will rise out of the waters of San Francisco Bay to crown the winners.

KPIX will film the Shark Derby activities and broadcast it on Monday, October 1, at 8 p.m. on the "Around the Bay with Bardahl" TV show. Co-sponsored by the San Mateo Lions Club and the Coyote Point Yacht Club, the event has attracted national attention and has brought thousands of spectators to San Mateo County. Proceeds are used for many worthy and charitable causes.

RAILROAD CROSSINGS

When you come to that railroad crossing take a good look and a good listen, advises the National Automobile Club. And watch out for that second track. Many a motorist has been very careful about the train he saw, but didn't see the other one.

The gymnasium and swimming pool are open each evening, except Saturday and Sunday. Wednesday evening is ladies night at the pool and badminton night at the gymnasium.

A basketball league of local teams may be organized at a later date.

Ed Cereghino Discoverer Dies

Joe Devine, Yankee scout who was instrumental in selling Daly City's Ed Cereghino to the New York ball club for $50,000, died in San Francisco, last Friday, September 21.

His funeral procession passed through Daly City Tuesday morning on the way to Holy Cross cemetery in Colma where he was buried. Local police joined in escorting the cortege through the streets of this city.

Last rites for Devine began Tuesday morning at the Memorial chapel of Carew & English, thence to St. Vincent de Paul's church where a solemn requiem mass was offered for the repose of his soul. Devine was a native of Oakland.

SMJC Events Night Game Slated Saturday

Thirty-five San Mateo Junior College gridders will make the trip to Long Beach City College this weekend for a Saturday night game. Coach Herb Hudson's men will be facing the 1950 national champion in junior college circles, thus making the game one of the toughest of the locals' 1951 schedule.

San Mateo opened the fall grid war with a 33-6 win over the College of Marin on the Burlingame high school field last Friday. Both teams played good ball, but San Mateo had the weight and speed, and also showed fine groundwork in training.

The Long Beach game is non-conference in character, with the Mateans getting the conference season underway a week later at Stockton.

The junior college has constructed a new radio studio and fitted it with the latest of equipment. This makes it possible for the college to offer a complete vocational training program in radio.

Monday evening the Peninsula UNESCO Forum will have a lecture at the College on Formosa. A week later the college Community Hall will offer an illustrated program on Peru. Both are free to the public.

Ottoboni "Takes Up" A Pistol

Ray Ottoboni and Adolph Buck, local members of the San Mateo Sheriffs (Civilian) Pistol Team will soon compete in the National Pistol Championship matches in San Francisco.

Held at the San Francisco Lake Merced Police Range, the matches will begin Saturday, September 29 and run through Friday, October 5.

Ottoboni will captain the San Mateo team. Ottoboni has been active in pistol marksmanship for over 26 years and is the oldest crusader for the sport in the bay area.

President of the local club is Sheriff Earl B. Whitmore, a firm supporter of pistol marksmanship in San Mateo County and Northern California.

Approximately 600 contestants, representing all sections of the United States and Honolulu will compete in the matches.

According to Ottoboni, the Los Angeles and New York police teams loom as favorites in the tourney.

Easier By The Dozen

Proving that it's easier by the dozen, twelve deer hunters, including five local men, bagged the limit on the first two days of deer season in Modoc county, each taking a buck.

Eleven mule tails were taken the first day and one on the following day ranging up to 240 pounds. The largest was a five pointer.

Local men Joe Garibaldi, Dean Lagomarsino, Ambrose Delfino, Quinto Barsotti, and Romie Ragio each took a deer.

Others in the party were: Joe Gregoire, Al Bin, Richard Ratto, Jim Pardini, Gus Scatani, Jim Muscat, and Oresti Zadrini.

Windbreakers Roll On In Victory Drive

The Windbreakers from South San Francisco kept up their fast pace by breaking the Marin Lions back with two touchdowns in the first minute of play.

From there they went on to score three more touchdowns and three safeties (a record for club ball in Northern California) to total a score of 38 to 0. The stalwart line of the Windbreakers held the Lions in their territory for the full game. On the first play from scrimmage, Bob Hamilton skirted end and romped 63 yards for the first tally.

The next coming from a pass from Robbie Barbetti to Ray Angeli just a few seconds later. The Windbreakers had complete control of the game from there on.

Saturday night's defeat was the worst suffered by the Lions on their home field. The San Rafael team never got going and 10 fumbles kept them on the defensive most of the night. On one kickoff Moore ran 94 yards, only to find out that he had stepped out of bounds on his own 20.

This was the third decision for the Windbreakers in as many tries, and they still remain unscathed.

It was a field day for coach Ferko as he managed to let all his players play, and eight individuals were credited with scores. The other scores came as Engler stopped Kpermoian in his end zone, Calhoun powered for six, Rossi piled Arrigoni up in the end zone.

The trials will be held under the auspices of the American Kennel Club, of which the San Francisco Dog Training Club is a member.

The burros of New Mexico, which can be seen almost anywhere there, are reported by the National Automobile Club to have a very broad diet. They have been known to masticate broken glass, newspapers, rags, and tobacco.

Botief hit guard for two. De-Tomasi intercepted a Gilardi pass on the 28 and ran it over, and the defensive line blocked one of Navarro's punts which went through the end zone.

The Windbreakers are a top choice in the NCAL and travel to Santa Cruz next Sunday to defend their record.

Accidents Chief Child Killer

"Accidents at home kill and cripple more youngsters than any disease."

Representatives of more than a dozen local and national agencies are combining their efforts to help the University of California and Stanford University Medical Schools get this message across to all parents in the Bay area in a Child Safety Campaign ending October 6.

Dr. Henry Bruyn, co-chairman of the "Child Safety Committee," summed up the reason for the campaign briefly when he said that "most parents are totally unaware of the dangers to children that lurk in the home."

"State and local records show that far more youngsters die as the result of poisons, falls, burns, firearms, drowning and similar accidents in the home area than from pneumonia, which tops the list of killing diseases," he explained. "In fact, such accidents kill more than pneumonia, diarrhea and enteritis, measles, diphtheria, meningitis, poliomyelitis, whooping cough and scarlet fever combined."

"Parents worry about their child getting polio and do little to prevent accidents. Yet, accidents permanently cripple far more than polio."

Indians Will Open Their 1951 Football Season Tonight (Sept. 28) a non-league game against Mt. View Union high at Mt. View.

Following last season's second place climax for the Indians in the PCL, Coach South is still uncertain of the team's potentialities.

Largest first string lineman Koprak weighing 229 pounds is described as exceedingly fast for his weight by Coach South.

But Koprak is by no means the largest man on the Indian squad. Don "Tiny" Baker, 6' 4" 285 pounds right tackle, is the giant of the squad. Coach South had an order special gear to equip Baker.

According to South, the team well along in fundamentals except for blocking.

In the backfield, Don Espinoza, left half, and Isi Galente, right half, have moved up from last year's second team. Espinoza will handle most of the passing assignments in Coach South's singling wing attack.

Bryan McMahon, quarterback has the signal calling task and blocking assignments.

Don Trevaskis, up from the frosh-soph team, has taken over the starting fullback berth from veteran Ray Tschirgi and will start in tonight's game.

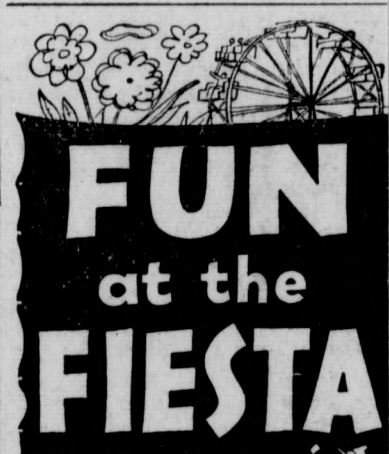

Mighty Well

Questioned on the depth of his team, Coach South mentioned the many second stringers are pushing the present starters. No man Cady, quarterback and left guard, Bob Davis, qb, Bill George, center, Dave Martinez, right guard, and Earl Troche, left half, are all knocking at the first string berths.

Co-captains for tonight's game are Hazen and Trevaskis. Following the Mt. View game, the Indians will meet Santa Cruz on October 5, prior to the league opener against San Jose one October 12.

Two Missionaries Will Speak Sunday At Westlake Community Baptist Church

Next Sunday morning, the Westlake Community Baptist Church, will have two young missionaries speak at the 11 a.m. worship service. The young missionaries, Rev. and Mrs. Lloyd VanStone, recently graduated from Bible College, St. Paul, Minnesota, will be leaving shortly for Dutch New Guinea, a new field never before explored by white men.

The VanStones have had a most fascinating and interesting past. Lloyd VanStone, 26, World War II veteran, was stationed in Dutch New Guinea during World War II, at a former Japanese air base known as Biak. Following the invasion of Dutch New Guinea, by U. S. Army forces under the leadership of General Douglas MacArthur, Rev. VanStone learned much about this heat ridden, jungle infested area, that will eventually be their starting point. Here they will proceed by native carriers into an area heretofore unknown, and unexplored, by any white man.

Doris VanStone, 26, the former Miss Doris Duckworth, of San Francisco, was orphaned at the young age of 11. At the age of 14 she accompanied Rev. Milam, with several other young people from the church, to Jefferson Park, San Francisco, where on Sunday afternoons a large communist element gathered to attack our country's leaders, churches, religion, and the clergy. Doris along with the other young people would give their positive testimony of the reality of a religion based on Christ alone, to a jeering, and booing crowd of deluded communists. Doris at the young age of 15 was doing missionary work right here in America, among these hardened atheistic communists. She was fearless in her approach, and subjected herself to all types of persecution, even from the people with whom she lived.

The VanStones also have two small children who will accompany them on their native trek into the fever ridden jungle area that will become their mission station.

The Westlake Community Baptist Church is now conducting services in Abbey Chapel, Olivet Memorial Park, Hillside Blvd. and F Streets, Colma.

A record attendance is anticipated.

Phony Insurance Salesmen Operate In Local Vicinity

(CNS)—Residents of the San Francisco Bay area recently were warned by the State Department of Insurance to be on the lookout for high pressure salesmen with unlicensed and unregulated medical and health services.

The Department cautioned the public to require full identification by salesmen of his name, local address, and organization represented, and not to pay money to a salesman until a check had been made.

High pressure tactics, the department indicated, were being practiced by a Los Angeles firm which extended activities to the northern part of the state.

The Department also said a concern known as the Safety Drivers Insurance Corporation of Kansas City, Mo., which has solicited by mail in California, is not admitted to transact business in this state, and said that policies issued by the company to persons in California fall short of California requirements.

Daly City Couple Return From Visit

Mr. and Mrs. Jack Walker of 101 East Vista avenue, returned last week from a two week's vacation at the summer home of Mrs. Walker's sister, Mrs. Frances Clay, in Northern California. Mrs. Walker is president of Old Glory Auxiliary No. 2044, Veterans of Foreign Wars.

There will be more news on the November Book Week program in a future article.

National News

In his message to librarians at the 75th annual conference of the American Library Association, President Truman named October 4th, 1951, National Library Day. This marks the anniversary of the association's founding in Philadelphia in 1876. Always in the past, a library day has received only local recognition, and this year marks the first time such an observance has been declared on a national scale. It is hoped that a national observance of Library Day will afford an opportunity of calling attention to the importance of library service in every community, as well as to urge all Americans to participate in a consideration of the Association's theme, which this year is, "The Heritage of the U.S.A. in Times of Crisis." The chief aim of this theme is to stimulate nationwide inquiry and study of the meanings of American freedoms.

Because the library symbolizes one of the most important American heritages, every citizen should make National Library Day serve as a reminder of his individual responsibility to be informed, and to exercise his invaluable right of intellectual freedom. An informed and intelligent citizenry constitutes the very backbone of a secure and united nation.

An understanding of our heritage will help us to think through for ourselves major problems confronting our country today. Have you ever stopped to consider the important role the public library plays in making available to everyone all kinds of books—the only medium of communication under the control of the recipient? This is a significant point, for books, unlike all other mass media do not make slaves of their users, but rather are always and inherently their servants. The American library is bound up with the best of our American heritage.

State News

The California Library Association will hold its 53rd Annual Conference in San Francisco this year from October 3-6, with headquarters at the Fairmont Hotel. The theme of the 53rd conference will be a serious consideration of the library as a place of business, the importance of successful management, the effectiveness of good staff relations, and the responsibility of the librarian to the community. We hope to attend some of the workshops and panel discussions which will form an integral part of the conference.

DO YOU FIGHT AT CLUB MEETINGS?

Don't, says Alice F. Sturgis, one of the country's foremost authorities on clubs and organizations. Her new book, Sturgis Standard Code of Parliamentary Procedure, written in simple language, tells everything a member has to know about an organization—how to form it, how to set up a constitution, how to elect officers, how to run meetings, how to act at meetings, how to make motions, etc. "These are eight rules that should govern every club member," says Mrs. Sturgis. Pin these eight rules inside your copy of the book:

1. State your motions correctly. Nothing is worse than having a motion stated with so much extraneous material that it gets itself defeated on the basis of some minor detail.
2. Hold your fire in debate and follow the correct procedure.
3. Let the meeting progress and don't keep rising to points of order.
4. In debate be brief and to the point.
5. Never indulge in personalities during a public argument.
6. Be quick to adopt others' suggestions.
7. Keep in mind the good of the organization. Always give credit to others when it is apparent that they are thinking of the organization's welfare, too.
8. Don't try to memorize rules of order but try to understand the reasons behind them.

Attendance High At County Fiesta

Attendance records zoomed upward yesterday as the 17th annual San Mateo County Fair and Floral Fiesta got well under way at the Fairgrounds in South San Mateo.

The crowd was light Saturday afternoon but by seven o'clock that evening every building was jammed and for the variety show in the Court of the Stars. There were 2500 people at each of the two performances.

Saturday's attendance was 10,500 while yesterday it was 11,178 bringing the total to 28,678 for the first three days of the nine day Fiesta. There were 25,734 for the first three days in 1950.

Most people who have attended the Fiesta so far have left saying they were coming back to really enjoy the floral exhibits, the outdoor gardens, the agricultural display and the entertainment. This has been the most spectacular display of flowers and water effects ever seen in California, according to comments from many visitors.

Hawaiian music and entertainment, a Latin-American variety show, troubadours strolling through the exhibit areas, organ music and hours of community events provide an almost continuous program for the day and evening.

Colma PTA Group Attends Meeting

Thursday, September 20, Mrs. J. C. Wiesner, president of the Colma PTA, and Mrs. Angelo Tuvo attended the district meeting in San Carlos.

This meeting featured the Department of Public Welfare. A film, "Human Beginnings" was shown and discussed. Mrs. P. D. Bevil, state vice president, spoke on "Besides Voting—What."

The first board meeting for this term of school was held Wednesday, September 26. Topic of discussion: membership drive and overcrowded schools.

Safety chairman, Mrs. Angelo Tuvo, has a caution for all motorists. . . at and around schools—look, watch, listen, for children. They are going to school at different times of the day.

MR. D.A.'S CRIME CALENDAR

SEPTEMBER is the Month for . . .

SMUGGLING: Vacationers returning from abroad may find themselves in a peck of trouble with Customs inspectors. This is return-home month for many travelers and little keepsakes and baubles picked up in the gay places of foreign countries sometimes ride into the U. S. as contraband. Advice: Don't be a sucker, declare them! Your swell time can have an ugly aftermath.

JUVENILE DELINQUENCY hits a high peak this back-to-school month. When the shock of the new discipline wears off, comes a rash of teen-age rebellion. Outlets for this loss of freedom takes on various guises: truancy, school vandalism, law-breaking. This is a situation bound to be on the rise after the first week of the fall semester. School gets back to normal near month's end.

DOMESTIC STRIFE: Just about now a pall settles over the happy home. After a fling at the ocean breezes and cool mountain evenings, with its romantic interludes, husband and wife find themselves thrown together again in the confining routine of normal living. It begins with little things, petty grievances; is embellished with the memory of the nice partner met this summer—and the squabbles grow. Sometimes it wears off—sometimes children are neglected, homes broken, and there is violence in the home. This sad story is told many times this month on police blotters.

Child Brings Out Fire Fighters On False Alarm

Pulling the lever on that little box at the corner of Mission and Templeton streets seemed such an easy thing to do for a small six-year old Daly City girl.

When a bit later, firemen rushed up in their truck and cars she was astonished at all the commotion. However, when the firemen discovered that the child had caused them to come out on a false alarm they took her home where her parents were made acquainted with her lever pulling.

HEADLIGHT TIP

When starting on a trip that may require night driving, have the headlights checked and adjusted with the car fully loaded, advises the California State Automobile Association. The extra weight may direct the light beams too high for safe driving.

KATHLEEN NORRIS Two Affairs

HERE IS A LETTER from a man to call him that for the moment, Lew Arnold lives in an Arkansas city, and is 43. Some years ago he fell in love with one of the girls in the office, but "I did not ask my wife for a divorce," says his letter, "because I knew she would refuse me." The boss always knows that, incidentally.

He and this girl, Vera, shortly became lovers, and he says he did everything short of marriage to make her position right. Vera was evidently a good office worker, for she went straight ahead, and was promoted steadily. Two years ago she bore him a son, going to live with an aunt in the country for a year, after which she resumed her office work, now being herself at the head of a smaller office.

When the baby was two months old Vera married a young sailor who was dying of anemia in a service hospital giving her baby his name with "junior" attached. The last few months of her husband's life she nursed him devotedly, and evidently he died satisfied with his bargain.

Affair Discovered

Vera was satisfied with hers, too, for while she never pretended to feel anything but sympathy and gratitude for the man who had given his name to her baby, she never would have anything to do with Lew again. Lew's wife, who was childless learning of the affair and the baby, did divorce him, and has remarried, so that the way is clear for Lew now.

But not for Vera. She firmly refuses to consider any relationship with Lew at all, and his letter to me is a pathetic plea to ask her to marry him, and to give him the right to raise his own boy.

Vera hasn't written me. If she had I think I would tell her that under the circumstances she would only jeopardize her own and her child's happiness and security by putting the slightest faith in any promises from Lew. Whether she was fully aware of what she did or not, she has neatly turned the tables on Lew, and I think he deserves being ignored completely from now on. Some other office girl will eventually console Lew, although, being free, he will probably move more warily now. I have no advice at all for him.

This case reminds me of one so sad and so incredible that I feel angry rising whenever I think of it. It began some years ago with a letter from a girl of 20, who wrote me that she was desperately in love with the office boss, whose wife of course never had understood him, but was clinging to him for sheer spite. Francie consoled the boss in his desolate situation, and he rented a small apartment for her. She left a good father and mother and two brothers to suffer the shame of it; she never saw them again.

Dangerous Abortion

For two years the boss had had Francie and Francie had the boss. Then she had a dangerous abortion, for which, she wrote me, Paul paid. And then the unbelievable happened, and the wife of the boss was removed by death. Francie's loving heart couldn't help singing; the way seemed clear now.

But Paul didn't see it that way. He wanted a little freedom before he married Francie. Her bloom, he reminded her, had somewhat worn off with illness and tears, and he asked her to invite various pretty girls up from the office, for dinners which Francie cooked, so that he might look them over.

And if any woman cannot believe this, I can only give her my personal word that it is the exact truth. Francie's explanation to me was that so high was Paul's sense of honor that he dared not marry until he was absolutely sure of his true and loyal love for the woman he made his wife. And suddenly he married a rather rich woman some years his senior, and gave Francie money enough to get to California. She had developed a dry, tight cough and was growing alarmingly thin.

So Francie came to San Francisco, to the big tubercular ward of the City Hospital, and it was from that place that she wrote me again, and I saw her often after that, during the two years she lived. She told me lovingly more than once what she thought of Paul; he had known that she was not well enough to be a good wife to him, and for the sake of his two daughters and his job he had thought it wisest to send her where she could get well. I never told her what I thought of Paul.

Policeman's Ball Plans Nearly Completed

Plans were being completed this week to make the forthcoming Peninsula Peace Officers' Widows and Orphans Ball at Bay Meadows clubhouse, Saturday, October 6, one of the finest in the 23 year history of the event.

According to James Allen, San Mateo Police Officer and chairman of this year's ball, attendees at the big annual affair will be given the choice of dancing either to the smooth strains of Bob Anderson and his 16-piece orchestra or to the more energetic rhythm of "Sidesaddle Sam" Stern and his western rodeo boys.

Allen said that the popular music will be dispensed in the race track clubhouse with the cowboy band holding court in the smaller turf club section of Bill Kyne's El Camino horse emporium.

President Aldo Fernandez, president of the Peninsula Peace Officers' Assn. and a member of the San Bruno police department said that the returns from the vast ticket mailing campaign to peninsula residents has been encouraging. He was hopeful that more local citizens would mail in their checks or money for dance tickets during the two weeks remaining before the dance.

Fernandez pointed out that the funds raised as a result of the annual police ball are used to pay the premium on a vast insurance policy which offers protection to the widows and orphans of police officers in 14 peninsula communities.

He further stated that a concerted door-to-door drive to sell additional admissions to the Oct. 6 ball will be made by police department officers in the various peninsula cities this week and next. He urged residents and businessmen to aid the widows and orphans fund campaign by purchasing as many tickets as possible.
